

Judge Cheryl B. Carey

Judge Cheryl Carey was elected to the King County Superior Court bench in 2000. She is currently on the court's Executive Committee and has been for a number of years; has served on and chaired the court's Personnel Committee; has been a member of the Family Law Committee and the Commissioner's Evaluation Committee; and currently serves as a member of the Washington Supreme Court Committee on Jury Instructions.

Judge Carey has served in the court's civil, criminal, unified family, and drug court departments. In 2008, Judge Carey was the Chief Criminal Judge. She currently is at the Maleng Regional Justice Center, where she is the Chief Judge.

Judge Carey is a graduate of Seattle University School of law. She served as a King County Deputy Prosecutor in the Criminal Division and as an Assistant Attorney General where she supervised the Civil Rights Section of the Corrections Division and the Seattle Labor and Employment Law Section of the Labor and Employment Law Division. She was instrumental in creating the Washington State Bar Association Labor and Employment Law Section. Judge Carey has presented at several CLE's including the Pacific Coast Labor and Employment Law Conference. She is a graduate of the National Judicial College.